"I have had the pleasure of doing this twice and both times the things I needed help around became clear. I left with ways to incorporate a better approach and strategy in my work and personal life....I strongly encourage you to try this. I have used it for myself and for my team. Everyone on my team finds it the most valuable leadership coaching and team-building they ever received. It is truly amazing, almost magical."

~ Colleen Marshall, Chief Operating Officer, Vital Decisions

During times of change, leaders must rely on intuition, agility, creativity and a vision of the future even more than depending on expertise or past experience. Interactions with horses allow a leader to practice observing, experimenting and responding in the moment to feedback and finding new ways of applying leadership skills.

Equus Coaching is an efficient, precise and personalized development experience where you have an opportunity to interact with a sensitive animal that will mirror exactly how you express yourself. You will receive immediate and honest feedback from a non-verbal animal with no stories or baggage from the past.

$650 includes refreshments, lunch and materials.

All activities are on the ground, no riding. No horse experience necessary.

Directions and instructions will be mailed to you once you register online.

"The Equus Leadership Experience was memorable, instructive, and life-affirming! I learned that uncertainty is opportunity, assumptions need to be questioned, and recognition of teamwork is essential."

~ Travis H., Business Development and Communications Strategist
